

Bible chat notes week starting 16 7 23

Our bible readings were Genesis 25: 19 - 34 and Matthew 13: 1 - 9 & 18 - 23.

Pick whichever questions you like and chat about them in any order.

1. Are robots taking over the world?
2. What would life be like if we didn't have to do any work?
3. How would you feel if a preacher told you their sermon was basically written by ChatGPT?
4. How would you respond if you arrived at a funeral and a robot was presiding?
5. How would you respond if a robot asked for baptism?
6. How can we keep the world fair if AI generates most of the wealth?
7. Esau accepted a bowl of pottage in exchange for his birthright. Does the rise of robots and AI suggest a world where most of us will do something equivalent, because there'll be no need to do anything at all taxing? Might we be handed out the equivalent of soup, rather than waiting and working for God's blessing?
8. If AI generates most of the wealth, where would God's coming kingdom be? What will be left for humans to do in working for the coming kingdom of God?
9. Are the flaws in human leadership really down to people being 'clouded by emotion', as a robot recently suggested? What are the real problems in human leadership? What role does emotion have in human leadership?
