

Bible study notes week starting 7 3 21

1. Is your life motivated by a concern for God's honour, as was the life of Nehemiah and Jesus?
2. To what extent is the honour of God tied up with a sense of peace and justice for all?
3. Nehemiah surveyed his site. In considering rebuilding church premises, have we yet truly "surveyed the site" - I don't mean literally, I mean: have we grasped the scale of the work that lies ahead?
4. Are you prepared to say, along with Nehemiah's contemporaries, 'Let us start rebuilding' - or are you leaving it to others to get on with it? Does 'us' include you?
5. In God's kingdom, does the mission follow the money, or does the money follow the mission?
6. Last week I shared something about the church I dream of. One person remarked that this was an old dream from years ago - and one we have now largely achieved. Do you agree? What else would be in your dream of what our church might become? Share your own dream!
